ZONE 10 MOVES AHEAD

Although the removal of the U. S. Army from participation in the Olympic games due to the dissolution of the cavalry came as a shock to all, it may still be something of a blessing in disguise for American horsemanship. Ever since the Army had been participating in the Olympics, Americans have been taking the brand of skill they were obliged to display in European competition as something peculiar to the cavalry, certainly not obligatory for civilian methods.

The whole concept of competition over jumps with time a major factor was considered foreign to our civilian show methods. Let the Army tackle the foreigners at the Olympics, we have enough to do here with our own shows, was everyday thinking. A few Americans, non-professional soldiers such as Frederic Bontecou, were keen enough horsemen and sufficiently farsighted to see that the techniques being developed abroad had much to offer civilian horsemanship, but most of us were quite willing to disregard this development.

Now with the job left entirely to civilians, even to raising the funds necessary to send a team abroad, we are aware of the possibilities of improving our shows as well as developing a higher standard of riding competition. When this awakening would have taken place if the government had continued to pay the bills and the cavalry officers had done the work is subject to question. With the job, one which public spirited civilians have shouldered with extreme capability, the whole subject of Olympic competition has become a vitally important part of our riding technique.

Whatever those who prefer to disregard the challenge from Europe say about the matter, the fact remains, there is no greater test of a horse and rider than the 3-day Olympic nor is there a higher grade of trained animal than the dressage horse. This training is not the circus training but the training of obedience and amenability demanded of a perfectly made hunter, hack or show animal. For racing purposes this department is perfectly willing to take issue with the extremists who advocate dressage for 'chasing. To us this is so entirely a different school that it requires another set of rules, certainly not those of the horse masters of Europe who were developing obedience first and foremost.

One of the first sections to recognize the importance of a higher standard of horsemanship stemming from F.E.I. Rules is California. They staged there the first show under F.E.I. rules and they designed the first Olympic type jumping course. Now known officially as Zone 10 with as Zone Vice President, Hermann Friedlaender in charge of further raising the sights of horsemanship for Olympic competition, they have published an excellent pamphlet entitled "Your F.E.I. Classes, Suggestions for Horse Show Managers". In this pamphlet is contained a brief description of how and why show jumping under F.E.I. rules can be expected to draw more enthusiasm from spectators as well as exact a better grade of performance from both horse and rider. Its study is recommended for all who are interested in better shows. It not only shows the way for improvement, but answers the questions of many show managers who claim that European type obstacles are too cumbersome to be quickly moved.

Our big international rings have so far evaded the Olympic type obstacle with the perfectly logical excuse that the jumps as constructed in Europe could not be moved in sufficient time. According to methods worked out in Zone 10 and described in this pamphlet, Olympic jumps can be taken down and others put up in 3 minutes by well trained teams. This movement spells variety, increased interest and a better quality of show performance from both horse and rider.

The announcement of the inauguration on the Pacific Coast dressage classes at the California State Fair in Sacramento and the Grand National at San Francisco this summer, together with F.E.I. classes for hunters and jumpers are the signs of the time. More shows on both east and west coasts are planning modified 3-day events.

They are signs, straws in the wind, that the success of our American civilian team against European horsemen is making its impression and that the old fashioned show ring and hunter and jumper course may not hold the answers for the good of modern show competition.

Letters To The Editor

Letter From Zone 10

Dear Sir:

After reading your editorial in the last issue of The Chronicle (20 June 1952) concerning the need for new ideas to stimulate interest in horse shows, it occurred to me that you might possibly be interested in the U. S. Equestrian Team Zone 10's answer to this problem. The enclosed pamphlet, YOUR FEI CLASSES, has been sent to an extensive list of horse show managers in this zone and though in many cases it was not in their hands in time for this year, the response augurs exceedingly well for next year and the years to come.

For the first time on the Pacific Coast (quite possibly in the entire U. S., though I am not prepared to make such a sweeping statement), major circuit horse shows are including in their programs an elementary dressage class this year. These are the California State Fair Horse Show, Sacramento, August 28-September 7, and the Grand National, San Francisco, October 31-November 9. In addition both of these shows are presenting three jumping classes under FEI rules, open to both hunters and jumpers, patterned after international events—Fault and Out for both teams and individuals, a standard FEI jumping class for both teams and individuals, and a Six Bar Competition for individuals only. Points earned in all these classes will count toward the Zone 10 "Horse and Rider of the Year" $100 award (see page 10 of the enclosed pamphlet).

This spring three official Modified 3-Day Events were held at three of the smaller hunter-jumper shows in California in which both teams and individuals took part, and the team idea was very popular. We are planning to expand this circuit next year.

Horse show managers and secretaries who are having to look for new ideas are overlooking the greatest opportunity of all—the part that our horse shows will or should take in the training of our future U. S. Olympic Equestrian Teams. International type jumping classes are unequaled for variety, excitement

Ray York After The Classic, "You Can't Beat Ben Jones, Arcaro and A Bull Lea Horse"

Joe H. Palmer

When the Arlington Classic was inaugurated, in 1929, it was won by Blue Larkspur, ridden by Mack Garner. For a while last week it seemed that Mack's nephew, Willie, might be about to win it on Errard's Guide, for he was three lengths ahead into the last turn. But while Arlington had shortened the distance of the race, it hadn't shortened it enough for Errard's Guide, and he retired on the turn to finish absolutely last.

Ready to take the lead from him was Armageddon, but as he did so, Arcaro and Mark-Ye-Well were moving, and the Calumet colt went around to take the lead and draw away to win comfortably by five lengths. So it was a fourth Classic for Calumet (Twilight Tear, Ponder, Pot o'Luck), and a second for Arcaro (Shut Out). Only two other jockeys have won the race twice, Garner with Blue Larkspur and Cavaleade, Wayne Wright with Omaha and Nedary.

Mark-Ye-Well, running in his first stakes race, won the richest purse a 3-year-old has ever got, $105,375, and altogether has won $114,120, with four firsts, a second, and a third, in six starts. He's by Bull Lea out of Mar-Kell, a mare which won the Spinaway at two, and four handicaps at four and five. She has had an earlier winner, but not a prominent one.

Mark-Ye-Well kept throwing his style out at two, and was sent back to the farm, unraced, to run out. It was freely predicted he could not run well in mud, but he did.

Arcaro has an amazing record at Arlington, for this was the sixth stakes he has won there, five of them for Calumet. After the race Ray York, without excuses for Armageddon, said, "You can't beat Ben Jones, Arcaro, and a Bull Lea horse."

The Wakefield Stakes, which was the feature on opening day of Empire City's meeting-in-exile, did not seem to me to make much history, though I have no doubt that Mrs. G. F. Spear, whose Real Brother won it and $9,125, found it as interesting as the triple-crown events. For the Great American Hilarious, Tahitian King, and Native Dancer were out, and for the Wakefield all of these, as well as the Great American first and second, Bradley and Belfaster, were absent. There wasn't a horse in the race that had won a stakes, and the season now is pretty well along.

Real Brother was, at least, the most successful of the Wakefield field, before the race was run. He is a son of Half Brother, bred by Eugene Constantin, but he has already been in three ownerships. For his breeder he made his first start, at Gulfstream Park last March, with a $10,000 claiming price. This didn't work, and he was dropped to $8,000, and got a third. But he couldn't win until his seventh start, when he was running in a maiden claiming race at Belmont at $6,000.

Next he was put in at $6,000 again, and this time he won most easily, but was lost to Gilbert Gay. Mr. Gay ran him back at $8,000, and the colt won again, but was claimed again too, going to Mrs. Spear. He won a fourth race, but at $15,000 stayed in the same stable. Then he moved to allowance company and was fourth, and then won his stakes.

He has now won over $20,000, and is at least going in the same direction. The guess here, however, is that he's not going very far. Six furlongs in 1:13 is rather unexciting at Aqueduct.

The second horse in the Wakefield was Dictar, beaten to fifth, eight lengths away from the winner, in 1:11 1-5 for the Great American Stakes. That's about what Real Brother had to go against.

The only criticism of the field for the mid-week Fleetwing Handicap was that most of the members of it aren't going to be around much longer. Only one of the six starters, *Northern Star, was under five, and of course the really venerable members were F. Ambrose Clark's Tea-Maker, 9, and Woolford Farm's Delegate, 8.

At the age, Tea-Maker is having his most successful year, at least financially. The $14,600 he got for winning the Fleetwing raised his earnings for the season to $40,400, which beats any of his previous four seasons. Altogether, to get the figures all over at once, it was the 93rd start for the old gelding, his 23rd victory, sixth stakes event, and it ran his winnings to $160,325.

Tea-Maker was bred by the late Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, and is the first $100,000 winner credited to her, as well as being the first for his sire, Only One, which was, in turn, the best for his sire, Lucullite. On the female side, his dam, Tea-Leaves, won four races and has had a half-dozen or so winners, the best of the others being the fast filly, Sweet Dream.

When Mrs. Clark's horses were dispersed after her death, Mr. Clark bought Tea-Maker for $32,500, and in the two seasons he has raced under his present ownership, Tea-Maker has won about $77,000.

It is about time that someone points to Tea-Maker as an example of letting horses mature before they are raced, for he was originally intended to be a steeplechaser, and did not appear under silks until he was a 5-year-old. Anyone who does this, however, should add a footnote explaining another starter in the Fleetwing, for Delegate, now eight, began racing when he was a 2-year-old and has been at it ever since, giving him six seasons against Tea-Maker's five. In the course of these, Delegate has raced 97 times, won 24 races, and earned $229,915. He's won 14 stakes and has been second or third in 21 others.

Delegate is, I am afraid, a little farther past his prime, and it is only occasionally now that he runs to anything like his best form. When he does, he can whip just about anybody's horse, some of his victims this year including Sheilas Reward, Bryan G., and Tea-Maker, but the good ones come farther and farther apart, and it has been his misfortune this year to put in his best races in ordinary overnight handicaps.

Tea-Maker is on the short side in disqualifications. He's got mixed up in three of them, getting a first in the American Legion Handicap last year after finishing second, but losing the Jamaica Handicap and an overnight race in 1950 by disqualification.

Racing Notes

Hunt Meeting Leaders of 1952; 237 Starters At Spring Meetings

Easy Mark

The first half of the 1952 hunt meeting season is now history, but a study of the leaders in this phase of racing, which has long been known as "The Cradle of The Sport", should make interesting reading not only for hunt meeting enthusiasts but also for anyone interested in racing and breeding.

The leading sire is *Nasrullah, the 12-year-old son of Nearco—Mumtaz Begum, by *Blenheim II, which stands in Kentucky. He leads the list by virtue of four wins credited to two of his get, which were imported to this country. His dark bay, gelded, 6-year-old son, *El Arabi, which is out of Via Media, by Zionist won two races on the flat and his 5-year-old, brown gelded son *Tico Tico out of River Princess, by Windsor Lad also won two on the flat at the hunt meetings *Nasrullah is also the sire of the famed conqueror of Citation, *Noor, and is one of the most striking looking and most promising stallion imports we have had come to this country in recent years.

However, for those who might be getting the impression that he is the only good sire which has hunt meeting winners, we would like to add that there are many prominent ones on this list. *Beau Pere, *Blenheim II, Chaledon, Gallant Fox, *Hierocles, Hyperion, War Admiral, to mention some of them, have sired horses which have won hunt meeting races this year.

The U. S. Remount leads the list of breeders having two horses (Kirdjar a 6-year-old bay gelding is by Sultan Mohammed—Lady Phalaris has won two races over brush for owner Harry S. Nichols. Ginny Bug, also owned by Mr. Nichols is a chestnut mare, by Red Bug—Virginia Viva, by *Dan IV, and has two timber races to her credit. Technically, the U. S. Remount could probably be credited with another winner in the 4-year-old bay gelding Fiddler's Choice, which is by *Athanasius—Anemone, by Oleander. The books give credit to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which took over the Remount before all the horses were sold.

In the owners rank, F. Ambrose Clark, who races on the eastern hunt meeting circuit is tied with Harry S. Nichols of the Mid-West circuit, with six winners each. However, it took Mr. Clark five horses to win his six races, while Mr. Nichols had only three. Mrs. Simon T. Patterson is 3rd in the owner's column, with four victories all of them being timber races. Her *Gift of Gold, a chestnut, 11-year-old gelding by *The Satrap—Golden Grass, by Miracle is tied with Mrs. W. J. Clothier's Pine Pep for timber victories, with 3. *McGinty Moore accounted for her other timber score.

Training honors for the first half of the hunt meeting season went to the mid-west circuit. Dennis Murphy is credited with saddling 9 winners, and his log book shows 4 victories over brush, 3 over timber, 1 hurdle and 1 flat. W. B. Cocks was tied with M. G. Walsh with 7 each for 2nd place. "Burley" Cocks had four victories over timber, one hurdle and two flat. His most outstanding charge was the 3-time Maryland Hunt Cup winner, Pine Pep. "Mickey" Walsh also had 4 timber wins, one hurdle and two flat. His best campaigner was Mrs. S. T. Patterson's *Gift of Gold.

The top man on the totem pole for the jockeys was F. D. Adams with 8 victories. His closest rivals notched up only half as many tallies. "Dooley" Adams had the leg up on *Gift of Gold for 3 victories over timber; Sunset Dell, *Journey, and Swing Cheer, for three on the flat; and *Marshland II, and Fonda for two over hurdles.

The overall picture shows 237 horses starting to date at the hunt meetings, which saw many new owners trainers and riders trying their hand at the sport of racing. A great many people witnessed the first horse race of their life at these meetings. Many of them become enthusiastic racing fans, and many of the participants will probably become more enthusiastic followers, who will join the sport of racing as possible owners, trainers or breeders. Racing can always rely on having a group of people who will champion the sport when the need arises, if the hunt meetings are kept in a healthy state.

Foals of 1952

Sales yearlings of 1953

Colt by MR. BUSER—LATE DATE, by *HOURLESS

This colt will be a member of the second crop of the brilliantly fast Mr. Buser to reach the sales. He is a half-brother to 4 winners and a seven-eighths brother to the stakes winning War Date, winner of the Princess Doreen Stakes, Arlington Matron, Modesty, Pleione and Ladies Handicaps and $139,755.

Colt by POLYNESIAN—EQUIP, by EQUIPOISE

This colt is by the phenomenal young sire Polynesian, sire of the 2-year-old stakes winners Tahiti, Native Dancer, and Tahitian King, as well as the older stakes winners Tonga and Thataway. Equip, a 7-year-old daughter of the great "Chocolate Soldier", has only had one foal to reach the races, that being the stakes winning Starting Time, winner of $50,155 to the end of May.

Filly by DEVIL DIVER—WHISKONIA, by WHISKALONG

This filly is a daughter of the top handicapper Devil Diver, sire of the stakes winners Call Over, Lotowhite, Ruddy, and Dawn Flight. Whiskonia is the dam of the allowance winner Miss Revoked, winner of $12,295 to the tenth of May.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Philip Connors will not be represented in the yearling sales ring this season, they wish their patrons to have a preview of Bolinvar Farms usual high quality stock, which will be sold at Keeneland in 1953.

Inspection of Some Select Yearlings Consigned To Keeneland Summer Sales

Arnold Shrimpton

Big business seldom refers to its products as such. The clamorous clap-trap of national advertising prefers the insidious approach of selling associated ideas rather than the merchandise concerned. In this day and age, a spade is seldom a spade. We are far more likely to find it disguised as a "gleaming, shining instrument of agricultural beauty, designed especially for your enjoyment of the long summer evenings in the peaceful tilling of your lovely garden". Brewers no longer sell beer—they sell conviviality. Perfume manufacturers do not market ambergris and essence of coal tar—they peddle sex, via the aid of naughty adjectives. Such is the artful art of the copywriter.

Much the same state of affairs exists in the Thoroughbred breeding industry. Horses are sold, both publicly and privately via the aid of big names. At the last Keeneland Fall Sales, 48 broodmares belonging to the now disbanded Coldstream Stud of E. E. Dale Shaffer, brought just nine-thousand-five-hundred dollars short of one million. It is a reasonably safe approximation to state that if you or I had owned those mares 97 percent of us would have been lucky to realize just half that amount, while perhaps 2 percent of us would have equalled it, and the remaining 1 percent might even have beaten it. Even at that, the last estimate seems to be a woeful exaggeration.

A glance at the catalogue of the Keeneland Summer Sales of Selected Yearlings scheduled to commence on July 28th, shows a similar trend. Of the 382 yearlings accepted, at least two-thirds of them are the present property of big name breeders who will reap, via extensive advertising and social contacts, the usual big prices for their stock. Let it be firmly understood, I am not criticizing or deploring this state of the Blue Grass Union, but merely commenting upon it. The same observations apply with equal emphasis to other sales both public and private throughout the land.

The point to be stressed is that fat prices will be paid for fine fat yearlings, most of which will be sold to the possessors of big fat bankrolls. This is no bargain basement sale, and if you are looking for one, you will only achieve it via the fickleness of luck. It is quite true that low-priced yearlings have, in the past, been sold at the Keeneland Summer Sale. Some of them have gone on to become top stakes winners. Oh Leo, costing a mere $2,600 and winning $121,222 as a two-year-old, is one example; while, With Pleasure, which sold for $3,600 and amassed earnings of $280,660, is yet another. However, by and large, this is a rich man's sale and if you plan to attend it other than as a kibitzer, you had best be proficient in writing checks with three and even four zeros on the end of them.

As to the quality of the stock you are going to get for your money, you may rest assured that it will be well above par. This is another bumper crop of yearlings and they are mostly of exceptional quality. Several of the leading breeding farms frankly admit that they do not know which of their entries will be their best sellers, because they have two, and even three youngsters in their consignment that can only be separated by personal preference.

The vendue opens at Keeneland race track on Monday, July 8th at 1:30 p. m. The dubious distinction of being No. 1 on the hip parade is held by Bwamazon Farm, and is a bay colt by Cosmic Bomb out of Almerby by War Admiral. Bwamazon has a consignment of five (four colts and one filly) and they are all compliments to the skill of Pat O'Neil, the able farm manager of the outfit with the tongue-twisting title. One day I'll tell you the story of how Bwamazon was born—it's quite a yarn in its own right. All five yearlings are top material.

The one that catches the eye is the *Blenheim II—Bell Song, by Menow colt which will sell as Hip No. 8. This fellow is just about as perfect as hands can make him, and is best described as a horseman's horse. He is beautifully balanced, strongly made, and without a trace of temperament. His second dam, Lakme, produced 8 winners, while his immediate dam, Bell Song, has produced the winner The Blues, which is her only foal to race. This entire consignment will sell well.

Another offering on the opening day will be that of Crown Crest Farm who will market two colts and one filly. One of the colts is the first son of Billings to pass through a sales ring. He is out of the Equipoise mare, Tig's Echo, who is the dam of four winners. This yearling is really good looking without being flashy. He stands as straight as a bean pole and has that cocky alert air of the "horse of distinction". The hip number is 89, and he is bound to cause a lot of attention.

The Reinemans are also selling a chestnut colt by Ace Admiral, out of Sunny Boo, by Sun Again. This is the dam's first foal and the colt ably bespeaks her quality. He is compact without being undersized and carries very little sales avoidpools, because he is the type of yearling that, by nature, does not respond to "hothouse growth". He is workmanlike in every aspect, with good bone and excellent opportunity to let down into a real race horse. He is the sort of yearling that you take an instant liking to and forget all about his being a first foal (not that it matters much anyway). I rate him as a first-class prospect who will sell well.

Last year, after reporting the Coldstream Dispersal, I recall writing that Shawnee Farm was a sure-fire certainty to become a power in the land of top breeders because of the strength they have consistently built into their brood mare band. Their consignment of this year's Summer Sale emphasizes that statement. It consists of seven fillies and five colts, all by different sires. My personal pick (because I admittedly hold a favorable bias towards her sire) is the strawberry roan filly by Whirlaway out of Last Lay by *Royal Minstrel.

If it were possible for you to offer me my choice of fillies from the entire sales, this delightful young miss would be one of top preference, for, she is indeed a picture. She has the stamp of class and is very difficult to fault. She stands over a lot of ground with her maximum strength being behind the saddle. Her dam, Last Lay, was a winning race mare and has thrown seven winners, including the stakes winner, Willing Spirit, while her second dam, False Modesty, was the dam of Haltal and seven other winners.

Judging on looks, I would say that she is a potential router, but in any case, no matter what her race record should turn out to be, she is worth her weight in gold as a broodmare prospect. Others in the Shawnee Farm consignment include colts by *Bernborough, First Fiddle, War Jeep and Brookfield, and fillies by *Mahmoud, Jet Pilot, Shut Out, Menow, War Admiral, Billings and *Alibhai. They are due to sell Wednesday afternoon, July 30th.

Another trio to be sold the same session is that of Jack W. Denis of Whiteoak Farm, Brentwood, Tennessee, he of the Confederate colors that were mentioned in this column of a couple of weeks ago. A few days after that story appeared, Jack Denis won a race at Aqueduct with a filly by Balladier—Forerunner. She won by six lengths pulling up and covered the 5 1-2 furlongs in 1:05 4-5. What is her name? Why, Confederacy, of course. Carrying colors such as hers what else could it be? At Keeneland Mr. Denis offers three well bred colts by Eight Thirty, Bimelech, and *Bernborough, respectively. I have seen all of them and they are well worth looking at.

The Eight Thirty—Jonell C, by Bimelech is my personal choice all.

though it is hard to express a preference. This youngster is a good strong brown colt who is very full of himself and the joy of living. He has equal power both fore and aft, and I can imagine him being at home on any type of going. Couple his excellent looks with his pedigree and you have a colt well worth bidding on. I most sincerely hope that all three of the Denis trio sells well, because otherwise I am afraid the owner will take them home deep in the heart of Dixie, and name them, You All, Rebel Yell and General Lee, respectively. In the interest of lasting peace between the States, I feel that Jack's price must be paid whatever the cost.

One of the top offerings of the Wednesday, July 30th session will be that of Ira Drymon, who will send six colts and a lone filly through the sales ring. Three of them (two colts and the filly) are by Polynesian, and they will all be snapped up for big money. One of them is a half-brother to Doublab and is Hip No. 219, (Polynesian—Double Shamrock, by *Double Entendre). He is a colt of exceptional quality and grace. His steel-hard limbs are plainly discernible beneath the satin sheen of his dark bay colt. He appears to be extra strong in the gaskins and when he has fined down he is going to be a picture-book race horse.

Chronicle readers will find a great deal of interest in Hip No. 221 from the same consignment. This is a bay colt by Brookfield out of the Display mare Ellen H, which is the dam of Gerrymander. Ellen H was a winning race mare of six races at 2 and 3 and then produced the winners High Conquest and Gerrymander (both to the cover of Challedon) as well as the winner Han (by *Hypnotist II). The second dam, Beacon by *Wrack, threw the stakes winners, Dunkirk and Waylayer as well as the good producing mare Flashing. As for this colt's sire, Brookfield is a horseman's stallion. Trainers, particularly, like his get because they are easy to condition and almost without exception the Brookfields come to hand early. This one looks as if he is going to dig deep into somebody's bank balance.

Also selling on the Wednesday afternoon is the Walnut Springs consignment of Clifford Moores. This consists of nine colts and three fillies, all by different sires, and a right fine package of quality they are. One of the choicest is the *Mahmoud filly out of Tourterelle, she by Stimulus. Without either beating the gong or around the bush, whoever gets this filly has every right to expect great deeds of her, subject to the usual hazards of racing luck. Her eye betokens character her quarters are good without being overloaded, and she possesses a good strong forearm with powerful shoulders and a beautifully arched neck. If more bouquets be needed, her disposition is exemplary. All you have to do to own her is to keep bidding until the auctioneer shouts "sold", and she's yours. What you tell the wife when you get home is your affair.

The other stand-out from this contingent is Hip No. 286, the dark bay colt by Roman out of Traffic Court, she by Discovery. It is no exaggeration to state that he is among the top ten colts of the entire sale. His dominant feature is uniform strength coupled with excellent bone. He does not possess the typical Roman knees, and his feet and legs are without blemish. I am particularly attracted to his good sensible head and his general all around workmanlike qualities. Everything there is to like about him physically becomes further enhanced when you turn to his pedigree. He is out of the good Discovery mare, Traffic Court, a stakes winning race mare of 11 races and $50,650 in earnings. Her only foal of racing age is Miss Traffic (by Boxthorne) which is already a good winner. The second dam, Traffic (by Broomstick) should have, perhaps, been named Terrific, for, she has the unblemished breeding record of 11 winners from 11 foals. These include the stakes winners, Roustabout, Mush-Mush, and also Jeep, stakes winner and sire. This son of Roman could easily be classic material.

Review of Background of Dams of Some Two-Year-Old Stakes Winners

Karl Koontz

It's always interesting to look at the dams of stakes winners and see just what kind of racing or produce records they possess. With that thought in mind, we selected at random some dams of 2-year-old stakes winners, to give you a look see at the kind of mare that produces this "special horse."

Fort Salonga, is out of Fortify, by Case Ace—Big Beauty, by Man o'War and she was a consistent winner at 2, although not in stakes company. In her first effort, which was at Garden State back on July 21, 1944, in the colors made famous by Man o'War, the "black and yellow" of Glen Riddle Farm, she returned to the winner's circle.

It was a 5 1-2 furlong jaunt for 2-year-old fillies and 12, answered the bugle call. Fortify raced well placed and passed the leader inside the 8th pole and came away to win by 1 1-4 lengths in a mild drive.

In her next start, she dropped a 3-4 mile allowance race, to F. W. Hooper's Tiny Tackle. Her entire racing career consisted of 6 races in allowance company, and she was unplaced only once. Her last start of the year was on October 3, 1944 when she won the 3-4 mile Tiger Purse, a 2-year-old allowance, offered at Laurel.

Doubtless this mare would have won more money if she had been kept racing for a few more years, but she was a valuable broodmare prospect and was not risked further—a fact that has been proven in the advent of Fort Salonga and before him, the good winner Bimfort, by Bimelech, winner at 2, 3, and 4, earning to the close of May $21,675.

Fort Salonga is the first 2-year-old stakes winner sired by *Mahmoud this season, being purchased from the 1951 Saratoga yearling sales, where the Riddle estate put their consignment on the "block."

S. P. Steckler wanted this colt more than anyone else and put up $7,100 to prove his point. He's reaped a good harvest off this investment as Fort Salonga has won the William Penn Stakes at Garden State on April 29 and on May 7th he accounted for the Juvenile at Belmont. After the Dover Stakes at Delaware Park, in which he ran 3rd, Fort Salonga has earned $33,700.

Hilarious, like Fort Salonga, became the first 2-year-old stakes winner for his sire, when he won the Tremont Stakes at Aqueduct. This bay colt by Bimelech—Laughter, by Johnstown, is a Wheatley Stable home-bred, as are the first 3 dams in his distaff pedigree.

Laughter, bay daughter of Johnstown—Merry Lassie did not race at 2, but at 3, in a 3-year-old maiden filly race at Belmont Park on June 2, 1944—her first start—she just missed by a neck, as she drifted out in the stretch.

Miss Eunice which Laughter had beaten in her debut, out-pointed her by 3 parts of a length, as Laughter went down to defeat in her 2nd start. Then followed a race in which she was completely out of the money, the only time it was due to happen during her turf career. It wasn't until her 6th effort that Laughter won her brackets,—3-year-old maiden affair—during which she just managed to hold on to win by a neck. Summing up you'll find that she made 7 starts and was in the money 6 times, but only won 1 race.

Her dam, Merry Lassie, also trained by James Fitzsimmons, had been a winner of the Spinaway over Evening Shadow and the top race mare Jacola; the Matron over Handcuff and Creole Maid; and a host of other top races. Besides Laughter

Brookmeade Farms Sell Crop of 22 Yearlings At Belmont Park

Brookmeade Farms sold their crop of 22 yearlings, at Belmont Park, on July 19. These 22 "Foals of 1951" brought a total of $142,800 for an average of $6,499. A full brother to the crack racer More Sun was brought by Mrs. Sara Chait for $25,000. He is a chestnut son of Sun Again—The Damsel, by Flag Pole. Turf writer Nelson Dunstan, acting as agent for an undisclosed buyer, hooked up in a betting duel with Max Hirsch, acting for King Ranch, for a chestnut colt by Pavot out of the *Beau Pere mare Flower Bed with Mr. Hirsch putting in the final bid of $17,000. This yearling was Flower Bed's first foal.

The sale was staged by the Fasig-Tipton Company and many market breeders turned up in the large crowd that assembled for the curtain-raising yearling sale of the East.

she produced Honour Student and Volatile.

Previous to Hilarious, Laughter had produced the moderate winner, at 3 and 4, Silent Mirth, which has shown none of the class of his younger half-brother.

Baloma gave the Depth Charge stock a great boom when she went about setting records and becoming the first 2-year-old stakes winner for her sire this season.

However it wasn't long before another of his fillies appeared on the horizon of 2-year-old stakes winners. This was the black filly Haunted, which accounted for the Cinderella Stakes at Hollywood Park for her breeder-owner King Ranch.

Haunted is out of Bruja, by Livery, which was a winner of her only start at 2, earning the sum of $700. Bruja has done much better in the stud having produced two stakes winners and some mighty fast horses. Among her earlier get is the Bold Venture mare Woven Web, which won some stakes in Mexico, then came north of the border and established herself as a champion Quarter Horse, under the alias of Miss Princess. Then under the name of Woven Web again, she produced to the cover of Depth Charge the aforementioned Baloma.

Encantadora, is a 2-year older sister to Haunted, and she was a winner of the Silver stakes and set a track record at 2, 5 1-2 furlongs in 1.06 3-5 and a new world record by flying 5 furlongs in .57 seconds.

In the Colleen Stakes offered at Monmouth Park, Late Model went to the top and stayed there, withstanding the bid of Home-Made, to win by 1-2 length. This black daughter of War Jeep—Model Beauty, by *Blenheim II was bred by Maine Chance Farm, bought by Leslie Combs II and sold by him in the 1951 Keeneland Fall Sales.

60 Yearlings Compete In N. J. Breeders' Assn. Show At Monmouth

Nancy Gaddis Howell

Rain accompanied the judging by Frank A. Bonsal of the 6th annual yearling show held in the paddock of the Monmouth race track on Wednesday, July 9.

The show, which had sixty entries and was one of the best to date, both as to quality and quantity, was ably run by Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong, Jr. and G. Baker Seeley, Jr., who is the hard-working secretary of the N. J. Breeders' Assn., under whose auspices the show is held.

There were 23 entries in the colt class, which was won by a really superior chestnut colt by Attention—*Tora, by Orthodox. Owned and bred by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. H. Johnson, Jr., this youngster was outstanding and also took the championship. Their Bernadotte Farm, in Tintern Falls, is one of the loveliest in Monmouth Co. It is run by manager Arthur James, who keeps the farm in tip-top show shape, and the mares, foals, etc., and Okapi which stands there, are a credit to them all.

The ladies predominated with 37 entries. This class was won by another Monmouth Co. owner-breeder, David Evans, of Holmdel. By his stud Ramillies, from his good *Sir Gallahad III mare, Citadel, this bay filly was a home product all the way around and Mr. Evans could certainly be proud of her. She was also reserve champion.

Officiating as honorary steward was turf writer, Nelson Dunstan, who presented the trophies and also gave N. J. breeders and their association many compliments, as did Mr. Bonsal, in their speeches at the luncheon given by Amory L. Haskell and the directors of the track immediately after the show. Presiding were James Cox Brady, who is president of the Breeders' Assn. and also a director of Monmouth Park, and vice president of Monmouth Park Reeve Schley, who took over in the absence of Amory L. Haskell.

Best colt class—1. ch., c., by Attention—*Tora, by Orthodox, Bernadotte Farms; 2. Ch. c., by Ramillies—Lupoba, by Jamestown, David O. Evans; 3. Ch. c., by Slide Rule—*Alexandria, by Pharos, Meadowview Farm; 4. B. c., by *Easton—High Top, by Jack High, Meadowview Farm.

Best filly class—1. B. f., by Ramillies—Citadel, by *Sir Gallahad III, David O. Evans; 2. Ch. f., by *Bernborough—Fable Lass, by *Easton, Meadowview Farm; 3. Ch. f., by Saggy—Belle Cole, by King Cole, Irving Kirshbaum; 4. B. f., by *Rustom Sirdar—Flaring Home, by Flares, Mrs. James Purdy.

bidder and after parting with $3,300 came away with the filly, which has accounted for $20,350, after the money from the Colleen stakes had been added to her previous earnings.

Model Beauty, racing in the colors of Main Chance Farm was a non-winner during her short racing career. She made her first start at Jamaica, during the Empire City at Jamaica meeting, in a 5 1-2 furlong dash, in which she finished 5th, after being slow to settle into stride. On August 28, she was at Belmont in another 5 1-2 furlong race, but this time she was further back in the pack, finishing 10th in the field of 14. The race was won by A. G. Vanderbilt's home-bred Nomadic, which is now represented at the races by the good 3-year-old winner Whither.

Model Beauty, is also the dam of the grey Lady Model by Chicuelo, which was a modest winner. The dam of Model Beauty, Lady Wisdom, is a full sister to Dancing Dora, dam of the high class winners Prince Simon, Tip-Toe, and Dora Dear; and three-quarter sister to the stakes winners, Wise Fox, Wise Lady, and Aquilus.

The run down on these few horses will give you an idea on the background of the distaff pedigree of a stakes winner. Which all goes to prove that the best way to evaluate the worth of a broodmare is after she'd produced a stakes winner—never before.

Hurdle Racing At Monmouth

New Hurdler Appears On the Scene As Porter Man Turns Back Field of 10 In Opening Event

Playfellow

The second annual session of hurdle racing sponsored by the Monmouth Park Jockey Club, Oceanport, N. J., got off to a rousing start on Tuesday, July 15. Ten hurdlers answered the call to post and at the conclusion of the 1½ mile test over hurdles, V. Cella's Porter Man became the first hurdle campaigner to grace the local winners' circle this season.

A maiden until this effort, which was his first of the year, Porter Man was ably handled by Jockey E. Phelps, who rated the gelding just off the pace for most of the trip. After jumping the 7th and final hurdle on the backstretch, Phelps shook his mount up and went to hustling. The 4-year-old gelding by Manador—Ex-Porter, by The Porter, responded willingly and outgamed Allison Stern's *Solar Count in the stretch drive to win by 1½ lengths. The time registered was 2:43 over a rapid course.

The Sanford Stud Farm's *Roll Call 2nd, which was second over the final obstacle, faded, but managed to hold the show award safe from F. Ambrose Clark's Acefull. The latter came from New York a highly touted gelding, but failed to live up to the hopes of those who made him a favorite in the wagering. Mr. Clark's color-bearer was off well and set the pace over the backstretch hurdles on the final turn, however, when called upon by Jockey Riles, he failed to rally.

A claiming event on Thursday, July 17, drew 24 entries to the surprise of many "Doubting Thomas", who considered Monmouth Park's hurdle program "just one of those things". This brought a hurried conference between the Hurdle Racing Director, Chris Wood, Jr., and General Manager Edward J. Brennan. The meeting was brief and an announcement came forth that an extra race would be carded on Monday, July 21, with the conditions remaining the same. This brought a round of smiles and congratulations from the hurdle fraternity and many old timers scratched their heads trying to remember when an extra race was last carded for jumpers.

Morris H. Dixon, Jr., who saddled Porter Man to win the inaugural test, came right back with Miss E. C. Bosley's Low Flyer to win the claiming event. Jockey E. Phelps again displayed his ability to handle jumpers and this time played a waiting game. Staying far back for the first mile, he moved into contention in the final stages and put his mount under pressure to turn back Irl A. Daffin's *Irish Monkey by 1½ lengths at the wire. Six lengths back, Paul Vipond's *Frieze nosed out Foxy Poise for the show award. The latter, claimed from Guilford Dudley, Jr., in Aqueduct's final hurdle test, was making his first start for his new owner, L. W. Jennings, of Catonsville, Md.

The winner, a $270-1 favorite, was coupled with Charles E. Mather 2nd's Sweet Whisper and he negotiated the trip in 2:44-1/5 over fast turf.

The Middletown, an allowance race over the 1¼ distance, closed the first week's offering of the sport on Friday, July 18. Nine hurdlers accepted the issue and the entry of the Happy Hill Farm's *Sonatine and Allison Stern's *Salemaker were odds on favorites at 70c-1. *Sonatine, handled by Evan Jackson, set the pace after J. W. McCaffery's Brimful shot his bolt. Isador Bieber's Semper Eadem challenged on the final turn, Semper Eadem had little left to resist and the Stern hurdler went on to win by 3½ lengths. The early pacemaker, *Sonatine, managed to hold the show award safe.

Starter Eddie Blind is starting his fields further back for this year's 1¼ mile hurdle races, so the winners' time of 3:23, which was fast, did not approach the record of 3:08, established last year by the Sanford Stud Farm's Fulton.

Claiborne Farm sells on Thursday, July 31st, which is the last day of the vendure. They will offer a grand total of 28 yearlings of which 26 are the farm's sole property, while the remaining two have bred in partnership one with Nydre Stud, and the other with Frank Spencer. Of these, twenty are colts and the remaining eight are fillies. The consignment also includes five imported yearlings (four colts and one filly) two of which are by Solar Slipper, one by Royal Charger (both of these are Irish stallions), one by *Nasrullah, conceived in Ireland prior to his importation to America, and one, by the English syndicated stud, Petition. Of these, the *Nasrullah colt is of the greatest interest, as he is out of the Hyperion mare, Nova Puppies, who has had three foals of racing age, all by *Nasrullah. Her two-year-old of 1952 is a colt named Novrullah, who is the winner of the Lonsdale Produce Stakes from his only start. He is considered to be more than useful and is owned by the Irish sportsman, breeder Joe McGrath, from whom Arthur Hancock purchased *Nasrullah.

Of the home bred, four stand out from the Claiborne consignment, all of which are a vintage crop. In particular, Hip No. 303, a bay colt by *Ambiorix out of Blue Grass, by Blue Larkspur, and Hip No. 302, a dark bay colt by *Ambiorix from Black Wave, by *Sir Gallahad III. This is the first crop of the Frenchman to reach the sales ring, and in these two colts, the son of Tourbillon could not have better advertisement. All his get seem to be distinguishable by the same features, for he stamps them good and hard. For the most part they are bays with very minor markings, but they all have the same spry, intelligent "I've been here before" air, about them. There is a total of six colts and one filly by *Ambiorix in the sale, and all of them, without exception, will sell well. The two

'CHASING—BREEDING

mentioned above might easily top the Claiborne contingent.

Mention must also be made of both the Count Fleet—Springtide by Menow colt (Hip No. 366) and the bay colt by Jet Pilot—Fair Weather, by *Sickle (Hip No. 315). The former is my personal choice, but this is undoubtedly one of those instances mentioned where extra fine yearlings can only be separated by personal preference. When two youngsters are well nigh unfaultable on looks, it becomes necessary to separate them by pedigree and, as all the world knows, very few of us can agree on ideal bloodlines. If we are right today, nothing is more certain than we shall be wrong tomorrow.

The H. B. Scotts, pere et fils, always sell interesting yearlings. They believe in quality above quantity and any yearling that leaves their farm on the Russell Cave Pike can be guaranteed as sales ready as human hands can make it. This year they go to Keeneland with a select consignment of five. They sell on the Wednesday afternoon and you may be assured that the sales pavilion will still be crowded on that day when the last yearling treads the green tanbark, for Hip No. 292 is one that all want to see sold. This is the *Coastal Traffic—War Jitters, by Man o'War colt from the Harrie B. Scott offering. He is, of course, a half brother to both Hannibal and War Phar (without mentioning The Shaker and Radiant) and as such, will be eagerly sought after by buyers. In appearance he is an exceptionally well made youngster, very nicely balanced, with excellent limbs and coupling. He appears to be the sort that can quickly generate speed and I fully expect him to add yet fresh luster to the record of his dam, War Jitters. The remainder of the Scott yearlings are all in tip-top condition and will fetch good money to repay the time, patience and care that has obviously been lavished upon them.

On the assumption that good cheese and rare wines are always served last at any banquet, the Spendthrift Farm consignment has purposely been relegated to that position. They are slated to sell on Wednesday, July 30th, and are 29 in total. In the breakdown they are evenly balanced and consist of 14 fillies and 15 colts belonging to the

Has sold one consignment 1950. All earned more than purchase price. All still running with success this year.

1952 Consignment

Ch. filly by Eight Thirty—Ladyofshallott, by *Sir Gallahad 3rd. Ladyofshallott is a half-sister of stakes winner Drifting Maid out of Afloat, by Man o'War, she out of Problem, dam of Friar's Carse, dam of War Relic. Ladyofshallott's produce include winners Galamilk (winner of $39,000), Master Mariner, Green Knight and Spring Dell.

B. c. by Case Ace—Rytina. Rytina won stakes at two and four. She won the Adirondack H. at Saratoga in 1:11 beating Red Shoes, and the Top Flight H. at four beating Miss Grillo, Be Faithful, War Date, Bridal Flower, etc. By Milkman, she is out of Sea Cradle, winner and placed in stakes at two and also dam of the stakes winner Brandy Punch. This is Rytina's third foal. Her first was a winner at two and placed at 3 and her second a two-year-old this year, has never been out of the money.

B. c. by Shut Out—Skimmer. Skimmer was a winner at two, beating the Selima winner Bee Ann Mac. She is sister to the three stakes winners, Early Delivery, Daily Delivery, Earl Morn and four other winners. The next dam was the Hiawatha H. winner Timely, a daughter of High Time and half-sister to three stakes winners. The first foal of Skimmer is the filly Rachel G., a winner at two and placed at three last year. Rachel G. has also won and placed at 3 in 1952. This yearling is her second foal.

Ch. f. by Pavot—Dairy Lady. Dairy Lady was a winner of six races and placed in the Mary Dyer H. Dairy Lady by Milkman, is a sister to the stakes winner Raylwn. The next dam is the C. C. A. Oaks winner Lady Reigh, also winner of other stakes including the What Cheer H. in new track record time of 1:43 2/5 for 1 1/16 miles. This is Dairy Lady's fourth foal. Her first was Break of Day, a winner of stakes class; her second foal, Square Dancer, has won four races this year.

German Estimate of American Riders Based On Pre-Olympic Performances

Herbert Wiesenthal

In the following we quote a few comments by the German horse magazine "Sankt Georg" about the American riders at the Duesseldorf show, the largest and most representative German show with international participation since the war and before the Olympic Games in Helsinki.

Our readers know that the American team gave a fine showing in Duesseldorf, winning the Team Event, Major Russell on Miss Budweiser the "Prize of Sankt Georg" jumping competition, and Capt. Borg on Bill Biddle placing second in the great dressage contest.

Capt. Borg—"Top Performance"

About the latter one German observer says the following: "Greatest relaxation and flexibility of the horse in all movements. However, before starting the 'passage', the horse started once into a canter. In the beginning some stronger expression was missing. The rider showed only 12 'a tempo' changes, instead of the required 15. The performance in the whole, however, was very impressive with many highlights. The judges believed that Bill Biddle made the best total impression of all horses. The mathematical figuring, however, showed only 589.5 points in favor of Bill Biddle, compared with 599.5 points for the German Adular with Col. Pollay in the saddle."

At another spot we find the following remarks about Capt. Borg and Bill Biddle: "The Chilean and American dressage teams showed that they will be very serious contestants in Helsinki. The U. S. Team has a strong weapon in the beautiful Bill Biddle."

Judging from their successes in Wiesbaden, Duesseldorf and Hamburg; Capt. Borg and his horse should be in a position to get at the top anywhere."

The Jumping Team—"A Surprise"

The U. S. jumping team receives the following general comment: "The great surprise of the show was the good form of the U. S. jumping team." About the two classes in which our riders were in front, the following is said: "The 'Prize of the Sankt Georg' (a knock-down-and-out event) was won with 22 jumps by the American Major Russell on Miss Budweiser, followed by the Chilean Capt. Christi on Bambi (16 jumps) and the Argentinean Senor Bettiller on Porgue (14 jumps). Major Russell received the gold ring of the 'Sankt Georg' and Capt. Christi the same ring in silver."

The team events receive the following bold headline: "Unexpected Victory of the U. S. Team" and then is given a description of the class, from which we see that the following teams competed: Argentine (Dr. Dellacha on Bon Vin, Lt. Col. Molinero on Discutido and Maj. Sagasta on Don Juan); Chile (Capt. Echeverria on Lindopeal, Lt. Col. Yanez on Fugitivo and Capt. Christi on Bambi); a mixed English—U. S. A. team (Miss Whitehead on Nobbler, Norman Brinker on Paleface and Col. Llewellyn on The Monarch); Holland (A. Janssen on C'est sa Soeur, T. Timmer on Swarte Piet and

J. Rijks on Master); Spain (C. Figueroa on El Peleon and Graxieus and Fr. Goyoaga on Vergel); U. S. A. (Arthur McCashin on Totilla, Major Russell on Rattler and W. Steinkraus on Hollandia) and finally Germany (F. Thiedemann on Meteor, G. Hoeltig on Fink and H. H. Evers on Baden).

The course is described as extremely difficult, especially the 9th jump, a triple combination, was the source of many faults. In the first round only six riders were without faults, among them W. Steinkraus on Hollandia. In the second round 10 riders were without faults. The Argentine team which was leading after the first round, fell in that round behind the U. S. Team, which won with a total of 20 1-2 faults, followed by Argentine with 23 1-2 faults, the combined English-U. S. team with 24 faults, Germany 28 1-4 faults, Chile, 47 1-4 faults, Holland 86 faults and Spain with 115 faults. The report states that the Spanish riders who showed top results in most other classes were followed by special misfortune in this prominent event.

(Editor's Note)

Due to the unprecedented number of horse shows being held this year, The Chronicle will temporarily discontinue a lead story for the shows, as we feel that in many cases it is only a repetition of the facts pointed out in the summaries. The Chronicle will continue to carry interesting notes, highlights and outstanding news events, which occur at the shows and are sent in by our correspondents, in other columns of the paper. Several lead stories which have been worked up and set will appear in this issue, but in the future only the summaries will be published.

Highfields Farm

The Highfields Farm Horse Show was blessed with excellent weather this year and a large crowd turned out to see some excellent performances. Almost 100 head of horses were on hand, but when the dust finally settled the working hunter rosette went to Anita Loehman's Tourland, over Sunnyside Stable's Reno Bounce.

Sunnyside Stable also had the champion in their Sneaky Pete, while R. Dean Messner's My Folly took the reserve.

Golden Years of The Coaching Club

Gaiety and Color Prevailed On Famous Coaching Trips

Harold Breul

The first English Road Coach to arrive in this country, made its appearance on the streets of Boston in 1850. At that time the Concord Coach, riding high on its thorough-braces, was just commencing its historic role of opening up the West.

The two types of coaches offered a startling contrast in appearance and handling. The Concord, with its loosely coupled and loosely poled team, raced down the narrow mountain roads at breakneck speed almost always delivering its passengers safe and sound. The driver, a marvelous reinsman, fingered each span of his six line hitch separately and constantly signaled them with his right foot that always rode the brake—a great art but now almost lost.

The English Coach, beautifully turned out and appointed, the team always well in hand and up in their bits, had a smart look that took a sportsman's eye immediately—and still does.

It was really the amateur whips who perpetuated four-in-hand driving. These young and not too young sportsmen cultivated the friendship of the famous coachman who drove Her Majesty's Mails and inveigled them into handing over the reins and letting them drive his fast stepping teams for several relays.

As the mails left the roads and the amateurs, whose sporting activities included driving, fortunately were in the upper brackets and were soon putting together private fours. As the sport found popularity, "Four-in-Hand" and Coaching Clubs were formed. These clubs had enclosures at the famous race tracks and as many as 80 or 90 drags or coaches would be parked on the line at the great races of the day.

Society, quick to follow an English lead took up the sport in this country and in 1875 "The Coaching Club" was formed in New York and for many years made a colorful contribution to the fabulous living of that era.

Of their many activities perhaps "The Coaching Club's" sponsorship of a regular run was dearest to the hearts of all coaching men. On Easter Monday of each season their red, black, and white paneled coach "Pioneer" was put on the road and ran through to the middle of June. Superbly horsed, this coach ran from the Holland House to the Ardsley Club, Ardsley-on-the-Hudson and return. Mr. Reginald W. Rives, one of the club's most finished whips, drove the "Pioneer" 16,000 miles on the run at a speed of 11.3 miles an hour and was never more than 45 seconds late except once. The alternating whips were likewise as punctual.

Imagine the gaiety and color of the Club's parade to Claremont for lunch! A formal affair and needless to say that the attention to dress and appointments left no room for criticism. Park drags were used, each vehicle carried a front seat load and two servants in full livery on the boot. The high stepping matched fours hit a smart pace one coach length apart. The President of the Club drove the leading coach and the owners and their wives were on the box of each drag that followed. Every owner and his two servants wore a boutonniere of the same flowers that adorned the horses' bridles.

Coaching marathons were also run. The destination was generally the outdoor horse show at Manhattan Field. This brought out most of the famous whips of the day, who exercised all their skill to prove their supremacy.

Perhaps the most enterprising projects of "The Coaching Club" were the long drives undertaken by the members. Horses and grooms were sent ahead in surprising numbers to furnish the relays for the fast travelling "Pioneer."

Owners of country estates along the way outdid themselves to furnish entertainment to the passengers. The lavishness of some of the dinners would seem almost incredible today.

The last of these long drives took place in 1916 just before the world changed too radically. The destination was Mr. William Woodward's historic seat "Belair" in Maryland where his breeding farm has produced some of our greatest race horses. Mr. Woodward himself sat on the box and toiled the Pioneer through the first relay of the trip. As the last whip dropped his reins on their return to New York, "The Coaching Club" had reached the end of its days of glory. The Mechanical Age was here and it could be that we have lost more than we gained by the change.

San Diego National

The hunter and jumper divisions of the 7th Annual San Diego National Horse Show, were well filled with quality as well as quantity. It was good to see 15 head of green hunters there in comparison to the usual 4 or 5. That Again, Thoroughbred gelding, upheld his championship in the green division at the Flintridge Hunter Trials and won the suitable to become and green class also took a 2nd place in the lightweight stake, with Barbara Worth Dodge in the saddle. In the open hunter classes the blue ribbons bounced around with no horse winning more than one.

Stouffville

Stouffville, Ontario held the most pleasant small show in these parts to date on July 1st, which is Dominion Day. Classes were well filled but not unwieldy. The show was featured by Black Velvet, owned by Charles Armstrong's Green Gables Stable, Brampton, which has shot to the fore as the most outstanding jumper in Ontario this year. Mr. Armstrong made a wise choice when he engaged Jim Donaldson from North Carolina to come to Canada to handle the good black gelding. The horse and rider seem to compliment one another perfectly.

and beauty. I can say from our experience out here that the introduction of the team idea is tremendously interesting to the spectators who follow with great interest the team standings as they change from one event to another, particularly when suitable score charts are provided in the program.

As long as the courses are soundly and competently constructed, they can be modified to suit the capabilities of our young, coming horses and riders, as well as those almost ready to try out for our team. The very fact that some of the horses and riders seen in these classes are preparing themselves to some day represent this country before the world in the Olympic Games adds considerable spectator interest to the simplest requirements.

Our future U. S. Olympic Equestrian Teams should be unsurpassed if the horse shows of America will wake up to the terrific opportunity opened to them by virtue of the fact that future teams must be made up from the civilian riders who are striving to gain their experience at these very shows.

Sincerely,

Hermann Friedlaender

Better Training Needed

Dear Editor:

On June 14, I happened to be in Alexandria, Virginia and as I had a little girl there that I coached a few times, it aroused my interest to see how she was making out. I got there late, for I did not intend to go to the show. The little girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Vincent of Fairfax Station, who were responsible for her success, to my estimation did very well as she went into competition against about 27 in one class and won two 2nds and a 3rd.

The judging was good, I do not know the judge's name but the show had too much of a lag interval between classes. There were some good little riders and good ponies but still others, riders as well as ponies, needed better training. Not all horses and ponies were put to the correct aid, probably the riders did not know better. Why people send such horses and ponies to shows is beyond me.

The teaching of most of the youngsters should be much better and as a result would not disappoint the parents and dishearten these little exhibitors who came out of the ring without ribbons although they have tried so hard, but they just do not know how to do better.

There certainly are a few instructors able to train and teach the correct way and advise parents when their children are ready to be sent into the show ring in order to make a good appearance as well as win. We all know that every child cannot win, but there would be far better horsemanship displayed in competition as well as sportsmanship if parents would take the trouble to see that their children were properly instructed before permitting them to exhibit in horse shows.

Very truly yours,

Edward Wulff

Avoid Bad Obstacles

Dear Editor:

There may of course be some economical or physical reason beyond my knowledge for the construction of the obstacle depicted in the enclosed clipping, but to use it can be so dangerous that I am taking the liberty of offering my criticism. (Editor's note: The clipping is of Sally Meyer on Brownwood, taken at the Pin Oak Horse Show, Texas, which appeared on page 13 in our July 11 issue.)

A horse who got in wrong and "stabbed" at this obstacle could put his front foot through the slats and not only get a bad fall but probably break his leg. Furthermore a horse often brushes through the top of a "hedge" jump and could easily hook his knees in the top slat. From the picture it looks as though the obstacle was built on the lines of a chickencoop and is again dangerous should a horse hit it hard enough to turn it over so that the base on the take-off side catches him under his stifle.

An obstacle built with brush in a low frame is safe. At the National all obstacles are 12 feet wide and our brush is in two 6 foot wide sections with the brush 3'-6" for the smaller and 4'-0" for the larger. The height may be increased by blocks under the wood frames or by placing a pole at least four inches above the brush. As in the double oxer, a pole can be placed on both the take-off and landing side of the brush, but in all cases having clear visibility and knock-downable elements.

The above is offered in the spirit of co-operation and in the hopes of avoiding a bad accident.

Yours truly,

Ned King

Hanging Horse Shoes

I feel in my bones this question regarding the right way to hang a horse-shoe is going to start something analogous to the forward seat, the fixed or running martingale, not to mention the sweet itch. However, I found in a child's old picture-book (whose age would give it some authority) some verses which should clinch the question good and proper. Space will not allow the whole poem, so I will quote only the relevant verses, thus:—

"A farmer with a load of hay
"Picked up a horseshoe on the way,
"He nailed it to his stable post
"With heels apointing uppermost"
At once his luck was clean out. Seeing a wizard (what a lot of these there are still about) passing one day, he asked him why he had no luck. The wizard fixed his eye on the horseshoe and said sternly like—
"No wonder the skies upon you frown
"You've hung that horseshoe up side down."

Meadow Brook Bows To Bostwick Field; Blind Brook, Farmington Tie

Bill Briordy

For the second straight week Al Parsells, 8-goal star, provided the winning goal in overtime as Bostwick Field beat Meadow Brook, 6-5, at Pete Bostwick's Jericho Turnpike field in Old Westbury, L. I., Sunday afternoon, July 13.

Al split the uprights in 3:47 of the second overtime chukker to enable Bostwick Field to win. The score was tied at 5-all at the end of six periods. Neither side scored in the first overtime and then Parsells came through with the winning shot in the second extra period on a short poke.

Riding in front of Parsells were young Joe Schwartz and Bostwick, while Devereux Milburn was at back. Forming the Meadow Brook side were Philip Iglehart, Terence Preece, Alan L. Corey, Jr. and Henry Lewis 3rd.

At half-time, Bostwick Field held a 3-2 margin in this keenly waged match. Parsells hit 3 goals, Schwartz two and Bostwick one. Corey and Preece stroked 2 goals each for Meadow Brook, Iglehart hitting the other one for the losers.

At the Blind Brook Polo Club, Purchase, N. Y., the Blind Brook and Farmington Valley fours played a 10-10 tie in the opening match in the annual round-robin series for the W. Cameron Forbes Cup. The Fairfield and Pittsfield polo clubs are the other contesting quartets.

Farmington Valley began the match with a two-goal allowance, and was showing the way by 7-5 at half-time. Blind Brook got 5 goals in the second half while keeping Farmington Valley to 3 tallies. No overtime session was played.

Bill Westerlund, Tommy Glynn, Cyril Harrison and John White formed Blind Brook, with George Gilman, Noble Welch, Frank Butterworth and Al Marenholz making up the Farmington Valley side. Harrison hit 5 goals for Blind Brook. Welch was Farmington Valley's top scorer with 3 markers.

The visiting Cambridge University four of England again rode at Bethpage State Park, Farmingdale, L. I., where Arthur Kaye and Walter Scanlon sparked the attack with 3 goals apiece as the home side took a 9-5 decision. Cambridge began with a three-goal handicap, but Bethpage was in front at half-time, 6-4. Frank Fox and Billy Hulbert rode with Kaye and Scanlon.

Sandy Strughers, Nick McDermott, Carl Moselmans and Tim Whitley made up the British quartet. Moselmans scored twice for Cambridge.

Ivory Rangers Win Over Powerful Milwaukee Shamrocks

Art Hagan

The Ivory Rangers never looked better than they did in the second half as they brushed the powerful Milwaukee Shamrocks aside at Detroit, Mich., on Wednesday night (July 16), 9-2, in a shortfield battle.

The triumph evened accounts for the 7-4 setback which the Shamrocks indoor trio had dealt Detroit the previous Wednesday, the first loss of the current campaign for the Rangers. The Ivory poloists stopped the Shamrocks in an outdoor duel Sunday, 15-2.

For the first two chukkers Milwaukee looked like a team that was out to repeat its earlier conquest. After Ray Harrington, lanky Texan, had shoved in a short shot to give Detroit a brief lead, the Shamrocks bounded back to tie to count on Capt. Tom Cross' 25-yard penalty shot at the five-minute mark in the first chukker.

Billy Ylvisaker, former Yale University captain, got off on a brilliant solo dash half the length of the field to put the Shamrocks ahead midway in the second chukker, 2-1. The Milwaukee club was better than the score suggests. They held the offensive most of the first half, and only some slick defensive work by Capt. Ivory, Ray Harrington and Al Kimmel kept the Shamrocks from widening the gap.

In the second half, however, the Rangers tore the game wide open with their most perfectly synchronized attack pattern of the year. Ivory started the fireworks when he banged in a 15-yard penalty shot in an unprotected goal.

A minute later Harrington laid a beautiful backhand pass almost on Kimmel's stick at the goal mouth, and Kimmel pushed the ball in. Then Harrington came back shortly afterward to dribble the ball along the boards and blast a perfect angle shot into pay territory.

In the fourth chukker, the Shamrocks faded before the unrelenting fury of the Ranger assault. Harrington did most of the damage with three blazing shots in the final session, all from difficult angles and two of them more than 30 yards out. Ivory and Kimmel also tallied in the final chukker.

Harrington was high for the game with 5 goals. Ivory and Kimmel had 2 apiece.

In the preliminary contests the Ivory All Stars stopped the Cleveland Polo Club, 10-4, and Strawberry Hill rode over Franklin Hills, 8-6.

Pittsfield Wins Opening Game of Annual Competition

C. W. Kellogg

Zenas Colt's white-shirted Pittsfield four and Frank Butterworth's blue-garbed Farmington Valley outfit hooked up in the hottest duel (with weather to match) of the Farmington polo season on July 20 with Pittsfield skimming an 8-7 victory over their hosts in the opening game of the annual 12-goal W. Cameron Forbes trophy competition.

Several unusual factors were involved in this tangle but none of them can take away the fact that Colt's team staged a stirring attack in the second half after being down as much as 3 goals to walk off the field with their deserved victory.

The Bay Staters actually added up to a 13-goal rating while Farmington was several short of that status but the game was played on a scratch basis and nothing was said about the difference in rankings until after the game was over. Nothing conclusive was decided, so it goes into the books as a Pittsfield win.

Farmington was minus three regulars, George Gilman, who is spending much of this season on the sidelines as he did last—this time with a broken ankle as the result of a tumble at Blind Brook on July 13—Noble Welch, the Yale varsity operative now in Europe, and Al Marenholz, the back position stalwart who is ailing.

But Butterworth imported slim Johnny Gayer from Long Island as a replacement and Gayer came through in fine fashion with 3 of Farmington's 7 goals from his No. 2 position.

Experience and youth alternated at No. 1 with Barclay Robinson, 50-ish dean of Connecticut poloists, and young Pete Kilbourn, a second year player, each going three periods. Butterworth was at No. 3 and big Tom White, the running horse trainer, took over at back from Marenholz. Pittsfield, meanwhile, was at top strength with Herbie Pennell at No. 1, Colt at No. 2—these two reversed their posts almost at will throughout the game—Arthur Mason at No. 3 and Charley Wheeler playing at back.

Gayer converted twice on nice passes in the initial chukker for a 2-0 lead and Colt's second period tally was matched by one off the mallet of Butterworth to give underdog Farmington a 3-1 lead at the end of two. Scoring picked up materially in the third period, each side getting 3. That made it 6-4 for Farmington at the half-time break and an upset seemed in the making.

But Pittsfield steadied its defense materially right off the bat starting the second half and Farmington got only 1 goal in the final three periods—that 1 as the result of a penalty shot by White from the 60-yard line in the final session.

Colt's crew hammered away, scoring once in the fourth to make it 6-5 and then twice in the fifth to go ahead for the first time in the game, 7-6.

The final chukker was fast and furious. White got his "gift" goal early to put the Blue even at 7-7 and then Colt went the length of the field with a beautiful bit of riding and stick work to send the visitors ahead for the winner. It wasn't quite over—Robinson came within inches of the tying score twice in goal shadow scrambles—but that was only frustrating.

Westbury Four Score Over Bostwick Field

Bill Briordy

Westbury scored 3 goals in the fifth chukker to beat Bostwick Field, 6-5, in the high goal match at the Jericho Turnpike Field in Old Westbury, L. I., Sunday afternoon, July 20. Riding for Westbury were Charles R. Leonard, Jr., Philip Iglehart, Terence Preece and Devereux Milburn.

Milburn knotted the count 4-4 in the fifth period and Preece clinched the decision with a pair of markers. Leonard hit 2 goals for Westbury and Iglehart got 1. Henry Lewis 3rd, G. H. "Pete" Bostwick, Al Parsells and Bill Stoothoff formed the Bostwick Field quartet.

Parsells and Lewis each stroked 2 goals for the losers, while Bostwick notched 1. Westbury held a 3-2 advantage at half-time in a match that was action-packed from start to finish.

At Bethpage State Park, Farmingdale, L. I., Walter Scanlon's Bethpage four beat an Argentine side, 12-9. Bethpage handed the Argentines a 6-goal handicap at the start and trailed by 8-7 at intermission. Bethpage added 5 goals in the last three periods while holding the visitors to 1 tally.

Frank Fox, Billy Hulbert, Archie Young and Scanlon rode in that order for Bethpage. Ezekiel Leanes, Ivan Pezet, Alberto Palmer and F. Hernandez swung mallets for the Argentine four. Young turned in a terrific game at No. 3 for Bethpage, scoring 7 goals. Scanlon hit 3 of his team's tallies.

Blind Brook and the Fairfield (Conn.) Polo Club played a 9-9 tie at the Blind Brook Club, Purchase, N. Y., in a series game in the W. Cameron Forbes Cup competition.

Bill Westerlund, Adie Von Gontard, Cyril Harrison and Tommy Glynn made up the Blind Brook four, while Walter Phillips, Bob Ackerman, Bill McMath and Randy Crawford were the Fairfield mallet-swingers.

Von Gontard and Harrison each hit 4 goals for Blind Brook, which gave Fairfield a 2-goal allowance. Ackerman counted 3 times for Fairfield, winner of the Forbes Cup last year. This was the second deadlock in the tournament. On the previous Sunday at Blind Brook, Farmington Valley and Blind Brook battled to a 10-10 draw.

Master of Spendthrift, Leslie B. Combs II; his son; and his uncle Lucas B. Combs, in various proportions. They have all been conditioned at Spendthrift.

The pick of the bunch is without doubt the dark bay colt by *Alibhai out of Miss Dogwood by *Bull Dog. This fellow can easily top the sale, and if he is sold for a cent less than $50,000 he is cheap. He is best summed up by saying that no art critic raves about a Raphael. If you have any deep knowledge of painting you just stand and worship. So it is with Hip No. 255. To extoll him is but to gild the lily. If you wish to see a perfect yearling, I suggest you come to Keeneland especially to see him. Another that takes the eye is Hip No. 227 (*Ardan—Fairly Hall, by *Bull Dog). This colt is beautifully balanced and looks a great deal like Bull Lea about the head, a characteristic that he obviously inherits from his maternal grand sire *Bull Dog. He is a sure-fire, five-figure yearling.

On looks, no man or woman can fail to admire and covet the chestnut colt by *Alibhai—*Donaval by Donatello II (Hip No. 218). He is only the second foal of his dam, and to all who appreciate French and English bloodlines, he is a wonderful prospect for a router par excellence. The other *Alibhai that makes one catch one's breath, is the *Alibhai—Durazna, by Bull Lea filly, catalogued as Hip No. 220. With four white stockings, she is truly feminine, and is "all woman" in every sense of the cliché. Bred as she is, being out of a daughter of the incomparable Myrtlewood, she can but command respect and a high price. Whoever gets her will have bought a top filly.

There is also the chestnut colt by *Heliopolis out of Gallawood by *Sir Gallahad III (Hip No. 234). This fellow also has four white stockings. His walk is a joy to watch and he exhudes power. His bone is extra strong and his frame gives him all the room he will ever want, to grow into a real powerful racehorse. Mention must also be made of the bay colt by Count Fleet, out of Up the Hill by *Jacopo. This is Hip No. 288 and is a real masculine colt, very wide between the eyes with fine shoulder and very powerful quarters. When Leslie Combs bought the dam, Up the Hill, just 13 months ago, she was carrying this foal. At that time the progeny of Count Fleet were not as sought after as they are today, and it is more than likely that the mare will buy her way out with this one colt alone. Up the Hill is currently in foal to War Admiral.

In closing, it is important to note that the review covers but a mere third of the nearly 400 entries. Those that are omitted because of the exigencies of both time and space have not been left out deliberately. I have seen most of them and can emphatically assure you that many of them are as good (and possibly better) than some of those here reviewed. When the Fall Sale comes along, every attempt will be made to give those consignors whose yearlings are not mentioned in this article preference over those that are, thus balancing this heavy budget of inspection. I look to the sales figures of this year's Keeneland Summer Sale to be on a par with those of 1951, with, possibly, a very slight rise in the overall average.

GREEN WORKING HUNTERS

The responses which the Bucks County Horse Show, in May this year, had to a new division may be of interest to the committees of other shows.

At the suggestion of Christopher Wadsworth, who worked out the conditions of the classes, Bucks County offered a full green working hunter division. This division gave owners of Green working hunters a chance they had not had before—to compete for ribbons over 3'-6" fences.

Exhibitors were not blind to the opportunity. There were more entries in this division than in any other. Also, exhibitors were loud in their praise, and openly wondered why such a division had not been common practice long before 1952. Aside from this it also brought out more owner-riders, which is a pleasure to see.

This division may well take the place of the young hunter division, which was a necessity immediately after the war. During that time horses were not worked.

Now that division has outlived its usefulness, as horsemen are able to work their horses, there seems to be no excuse for a 5-year-old to have 3 years of showing over 3'-6" fences. —M. F. R.

ROYAL COMMAND

The Canadian Olympic 3-Day Event Team received a Royal Command from the Queen to appear at a cocktail party on July 9, at Buckingham Palace. Reception of the Canadian Team, the first Canada has sent to the olympic games, has been overwhelming in England.

Six Canadians had the honor of meeting Her Royal Highness, Queen Elizabeth, at the command appearance. They were: Maj. G. T. Gayford, team manager, his son Tom, L. J. McGuinness, S. H. Treviranus, John Rumble and Walter Pady, the riders who went to England to undergo further training before the olympics.

The official team riders have just been announced as L. J. McGuinness, Tom Gayford and John Rumble, with Walter Pady the spare. Their horses have been nominated but it is not definite who will ride which at Helsinki. McGuinness will likely ride Tara; Gayford, Rocket; and Rumble, Constellation.

The horses rallied quickly from their ocean voyage and have done all asked of them over the courses both at Badminton and Porlock where the British team is training. The riders should be fit too. They have been doing daily road work on shank's mare. —Broadview

APPOINTED INSTRUCTOR

Dr. Robert F. Butzow, member of the first class to graduate from the College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Illinois, has been appointed instructor in the department of veterinary clinical medicine at the college. Since 1946 he had been employed on a part time basis by the college of Veterinary Medicine and the United States Department of Agriculture, while attending the U. of I. Before receiving his D. V. M. degree in 1952 he received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1947, a Master of Science degree in animal nutrition in 1949 and a Bachelor of Science degree in veterinary medicine in 1950. Following his discharge from the Army in 1945 and prior to his enrollment at Illinois he pursued pre-veterinary studies at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

While engaged in newspaper work before the war, Dr. Butzow joined Chicago's famous Black Horse Squadron of the 106th Cavalry which entered active duty in 1940. In the Cavalry, and later in the Remount, he served as a horse-snooper and as a veterinary technician. His army experiences in World War II included three years in the Asiatic-Pacific theater.

Dr. Butzow is the elder of two sons of Frank Butzow, turf writer, horse owner and former president of the Illinois Thoroughbred Breeders Assn.

COMMISSION'S RULING

Recently we received two releases from the New York State Racing Commission. The releases gave out the findings on the case of trainer Ramon Bueno, whose 1952 trainer's license was suspended as a result of the saliva test on the horse "Byng," and on owner Louis Tufano, whose 1952 owner's license was suspended as a result of his giving improper racing orders to jockeys Don McAndrew and Eldon Coffman.

The wording of the releases made it quite clear that there was no doubt in the commission's mind when they made their rulings, and we have nothing but respect and admiration for the just and forthright manner in which the commission, composed of Asahey Trimble Cole, chairman and commissioners William C. Langley and L. A. Swirbul, handled the cases. The New York Racing Commission is truly an asset to the sport. —Easy Mark

NEW SET UP

In line with its policy to provide every possible convenience for horsemen, the Monmouth Park management is now installing a complete loud speaker system in the stable area, with horns at each of the many back stretch barns. In the future, messages for trainers or members of their staffs can be broadcast from the main stable office, while calls for owners and trainers from the racing secretary's office can be relayed quickly to the proper parties.

NEW HURDLE STAKES

Belmont is turning the overnight hurdle handicap, the Rouge Dragon into a new $10,000 added Hurdle Stakes. The new fixture will be fastened to the important schedule of infield features to be held at Belmont Park this fall, and will be run on September 29.

The 2-mile hurdle event is named for M. Andrew Cushman's popular chestnut gelding by Annapolis—Pimento II, by Pommern. Rouge Dragon started out his racing career as a useless 2-year-old, but at 3 when turned to the jumping game, he rallied and later became one of the best in the great game of "chasing." As a 3-year-old he won a hurdle race, was then switched to the bigger fences and won 3 out of 4 steeplechases.

As a 4-year-old he was most unsuccessful and for a time it looked like this was to be a repetition of his 2-year-old season. At 5 though, he sharpened up and in the following 3 years collected the best in steeplechase stakes. He was a winner of the Charles L. Appleton, Beverwyck (3 times), Georgetown (2 times), Jervis Spencer (2 times), Brook (2 times), Governor Ogle, Shillelah, Indian River (2 times), as well as placing in numerous other stakes features. Rouge Dragon, in 1944, was selected as the most outstanding steeplechaser of the year.

If Rouge Dragon had a fault, for it's hard to condemn a winning horse, it was his dislike of being rated, and he would run with anything that came at him, often proving his own undoing when speed horses were sent out to kill him off. In fact in his last start, he was attempting to put away Galactic, when he fell at the 7th fence in the Grand National Steeplechase.

Rouge Dragon ranks fifth today in money earnings behind the great

Elkridge, Jolly Roger, Are Light, and Adaptable.

While the Rouge Dragon was run as an overnight handicap I. Bieber's Semper Eadem, in 1950 and Mrs. G. H. Bostwick's Hyvania, in 1951, have already had their names inscribed on the trophy donated by Mr. Cushman, and both will probably be back to try again. —Sandrock

EASY MARKINGS

Larry McPhail, president of Bowie, recently made some announcements which should give the Maryland track a big boost for its coming fall meeting. John B. Campbell, dean of American racing secretaries, has been hired to take over the job at Bowie, which he held there 14 years ago. The meeting will also feature 7 added money events, two of them worth $50,000. Under the new policy Bowie should attract some of the country's foremost stables this fall. July 29 will be a big day at Rockingham Park, North Salem, N. H. This is the day that Lou Smith, founder of Rockingham Park, will say "thank you" to the racing public for 20 years of support. That day everybody will be admitted free and everybody will receive a free program. If Mr. Smith's estimate of business this year is correct, the pari-mutual revenue for the state of New Hampshire this year will push the figure for the 20-year period over the $30,000,000 mark. Quite a remarkable figure for a state which has a population comparable to cities like Buffalo, Milwaukee or St. Paul—Col Phil T. Chinn, Kentucky's famed horse trader, has announced that he will sell privately all of his 48 broodmares. This announcement came after the report of the sale of Hartland Farm, where the mares had been boarded, to James Abercrombie and his daughter, Mrs. Josephine A. Seguria. John A. Morris, president of the Metropolitan Jockey Club presented a check for $10,500 to chairman of the New York Olympic Committee, Comptroller Lazarus Joseph. The contribution was in behalf of the five New York racing Association's tracks. The tracks previously donated $10,000 which went to the Olympic Equestrian Fund. . . . Steeplechase Jockey Evan Jackson got a suspension of 3 hurdle race days at Monmouth Park for disobedience at the post in the infield race on Monday, July 21, when he was astride M. A. Cushman's Escarp. . . Dr. Martin A. De Moya of Venezuela, is in Houston, Tex., buying some top geldings for his government. The geldings, which are being sought in Texas and Oklahoma, are to measure up to the grade set by the U. S. Army Remount before the advent of the motorized equipment. Shipment of the horses will be made from New Orleans and Mobile. . . If a 25-acre plot adjacent to the track is rezoned "first-commercial" by the city of Baltimore so that stables can be constructed on it, and if the Maryland Racing Commission decrees that architectural fees be treated as building costs, so that money held in escrow by the commission for building funds can be released, then according to president Maj. Gen. Milton A. Record, Pimlico's clubhouse and grandstand will be rebuilt. That is as soon as building restrictions are released. . . Morris H. Dixon, Jr., seems to be following successfully in the footsteps of his father as a first line conditioner and trainer of horses. Young Morris saddled the winners of the first two hurdle races at Monmouth Park and to date has 7 winners at the big tracks to his credit including 3 stakes, and 3 at the hunt meetings for a total of 10 victories for the year. —Easy Mark

Mrs. Toerge's Free State Versatile Hunter Wins Middleburg Hunt Cup

The cover picture by Thelma Herick is of Free State and Jockey O. A. Brown winning the Middleburg Hunt Cup, over 3 miles of timber, on April 21, 1951. Free State, a son of *Donnacona—Adorada, by Cataract was trained for his winning effort by James P. McCormick, and was a 15-year-old at the time. That same year, he won the Blue Ridge Point-to-Point with Mr. Lewis Murdock up and was 2nd in the Rokeby Bowl.

In the Maryland Hunt Cup of 1951, Free State was ridden by Mr. Doug Small, and the pair was setting the pace when Free State hit the 19th, taking out the rail, and losing his rider.

This was Free State's second try at the Hunt Cup, his first being in 1946. In this, his first trip over this big course, he was ridden by another first timer, Mr. Mike Smithwick, who today can look back on four winning trips in this timber classic. In 1946, as he did 5 years later, Free State was setting the pace after the 16th, and at the 19th, when 5 lengths on top, he looked the fence and came crashing down.

Free State was a versatile horse, being hunted by his owner Mrs. Norman K. Toerge for 11 years. During the war, when gas rationing was a little tight, he was broken to harness and served well in that capacity.

At 14 years, Free State won the Lightweight Thoroughbred division of the Green Mountain 100 Mile Trail Ride in Vermont. The first day's schedule called for 40 miles to be covered in 7 hours, and Free State was so fit that he had to be held up an hour and a half in the middle of the distance, so that the others could catch up. He wanted to do it in under 6 hours and could easily have accomplished this feat.

He was one of the best mannered and keenest of hunters, while, in the summers he served equally as well as a perfect hack and picnic conveyance that you could tie to a tree, eat your lunch and forget about him until time to go home.

In short, Free State was that rare kind of horse, that enriches his owner for having owned him.
